Core Courses

Christian World View: We are children of the times. Therefore, our thinking to one degree or another reflects the worldview of our day. A distinctly Christian worldview should be the foundation of every believer's thinking which will manifest itself in what we do, think and say in our daily lives. This Christian World View class is intended to challenge us to think and consequently live Biblically.

Descriptions

Elective Courses

Written in Stone: The Voice of God in the Ten Commandments: Our country has rejected the authority of God by rejecting His commandments in the public arena. Our culture has rejected the authority of God by rejecting His commandments in private life. The Ten Commandments are the demonstration of God's character and distillation of God's law. We can benefit from an understanding and appreciation of what He said on the mountain and wrote for us in stone.

Text: Disciplines of God's Grace: Ten Words for a Vital Spiritual Life by R. Kent Hughes.

Instructor: Dr. Matt Morrell, Pastor of Fourth Baptist Church, Plymouth

Contemporary Charismatics: This course will present an overview of the history of the Charismatic Movement with particular emphasis on the last two decades and where it stands today. Many folds are affected by these teachings and can be helped onto a more stable approach to Christian life through our own personal ministries. Knowing what they believe will be helpful in assisting them.

Text: Charismatic Chaos by John MacArthur

Instructor: Jason Stamper, Registrar and Director of Admissions, Central Seminary
